

ONAP Security coordination

This is a wiki page that captures the intent and planned/ongoing actions for the support of security coordination in ONAP.

This covers both the organizational setup and the operations of the onap security subcommittee.

ONAP security organization

The ONAP security work is split into two parts. The management of identified vulnerabilities, which is handled by the vulnerability management sub-committee and the coordination and identification of necessary security related activities which is handled by the security sub-committee.

Vulnerability management

Vulnerability management covers how to handle the reception of an identified vulnerability through to solution and communication of the vulnerability. The process is initiated by the reception of an email to onap-security@lists.onap.org. The vulnerability management procedures can be found here: ONAP Vulnerability Management.

Release Vulnerabilities

This lists the vulnerabilities reported for each Release.

ONAP security sub-committee

The ONAP security sub-committee identifies and creates proposals related to security in ONAP. As one example, it has created the proposal for the Vulnerability management procedures which are now in effect. The ongoing efforts of the ONAP security sub-committee are now to explore more proactive security activities.

The email address for the onap sub-committee is: onap-seccom@lists.onap.org with information on how to subscribe found here: onap security sub-committee email subscription.
